EOS International® Continues to be the Premier Library Automation Provider for Law Libraries

EOS International legal library client list continues to grow

(Carlsbad, CA – June 19, 2006) World-class library automation provider EOS International has added new law firms to its expansive list of legal library clients, expanding the EOS legal market domination. Recent legal library clients include Goodwin Procter, Fredrikson & Byron, P.A. and the 2005 UK Law Firm of the Year Berwin Leighton Paisner.

With over twenty-five years of experience in the industry, EOS International is proving itself as the premier solution for legal libraries. These new law firms join a long list of other law firms using EOS.Web including Morrison & Foerster, Paul Hastings Janofsky & Walker, Katten Muchin Rosenman LLP, Dinsmore & Shohl LLP, Torys LLP and Milbank Tweed Hadley & McCloy LLP.

“With EOS.Web, the functionality of the web is available to you. With the IP authentication a user can log into any computer and access the system with a valid network ID,” states Betty Roeske of Katten Muchin Rosenman LLP. “Plus, it is easy for staff to move between modules. The interconnection of the various modules improves the staff productivity in creating records.”

“EOS is honored to have been selected by these top law firms,” states Tony Saadat, CEO. “It is a true testament to the features, reliability and ease of use of our solution.”

EOS.Web can be installed as a local, in-house, Web-based solution running on a local network server, or hosted at the EOS e-Library Service Global Data Center, enabling libraries to significantly reduce costs and improve operations.
