Government libraries choose to adopt the library automation & knowledge management solution EOS.Web

(Carlsbad, CA – August 14, 2009) EOS International continues to increase its client base by adding a number of high-level governmental clients. The leading library services and knowledge management company reported that libraries covering disciplines from wildlife to healthcare management are among its growing local-, state-, and federal-level governmental sector clients.

EOS International has a great track-record of providing exceptional knowledge management solutions to government libraries. In fact, of all the markets that EOS International serves, government libraries are the fastest growing. Some of the company's latest governmental clients include: Department of Veterans Affairs, VA Medical Centers in Wilmington and Lebanon; Caribbean Tourism; Philippine Carabao Centre; U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims; Federal Highway Administration; and Colorado Division of Wildlife Resources.

“As an established GSA vendor, we can meet the specific needs of government libraries better than any other library automation and knowledge management company,” said Salvatore Provenza, Vice President of Global Sales & Marketing. “EOS.Web offers the best access to a library's resources from anywhere in the world, while providing maximum security that is unmatched by any other ILS vendor.”
