EOS INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITING AT THE MEDICAL LIBRARY ASSOCIATION CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON, DC

EOS continues to cultivate relationships with DC area medical clients and prospects.

(Carlsbad, CA – April 28, 2010) EOS International, a leader in library automation and Software-as-a-Service (SaaS), announced its exhibitor participation at this year’s highly anticipated Medical Library Association (MLA) conference, taking place in Washington, DC. EOS International participates at the MLA conference annually and will also host a Seminar and Client Reception.

Salvatore Provenza, Vice President of Global Sales and Marketing, stated, “We look forward to returning to the Washington, DC area again this season for the MLA conference. The DC area holds significant new business potential for us. Twenty percent of our current clients reside in the DC metropolitan and the tri-state areas. MLA is a great opportunity for us to meet with librarians in the health sciences information field and to show them what EOS.Web® Medical can do for their library.”

EOS International will host a seminar for potential clients interested in learning more about EOS International, its products and services. The Seminar will take place on Sunday, May 23rd at 4:45pm at the Hilton Washington, DC Hotel. The Client Reception will take place immediately following the Seminar at 6:00pm.

EOS International will return to Washington, DC one last time this conference season for the American Library Association (ALA) conference in June. EOS International will also exhibit at the Special Libraries Association (SLA) and American Association of Law Libraries (AALL) conferences this year. More details to follow.
