EOS International Accepted as a Registered Supplier with the United Nations Procurement Division (UNPD)

(Carlsbad, CA – January 17, 2011) EOS International is an approved supplier in the United Nations Procurement Division (UNPD) supplier database. EOS has also been accepted by the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) and the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD). The criteria for registration as a UNPD Supplier include the relevance of the goods or services to the needs of the UN as well as international business experience, the financial stability of the company, and evidence of compliance with international quality assurance and management standards.

Registering with UNPD is the first step to be considered for participating in tendering exercises in an easy and systematic way.

The United Nations does business with suppliers from all over the world. They build awareness and encourage greater participation in United Nations procurement opportunities and further diversify the geographical composition of their supplier database. They aim to provide the best value for money in the timely delivery of goods, service and capacity to enable their customers to execute their missions and achieve their objectives within a fair and transparent commercial partnership provided by their vendors.
